This is a new seasonal set meal of a hot pot made with locally grown snow vegetables and a Yanaizu original sauce katsudon (pork cutlet served on top of bowl of rice). Please enjoy this set meal for lunch!

Snow vegetables: These are vegetables that have spent the winter under snow. It is said that these vegetables can only be grown in the natural environment in this area that is covered with snow due to the harshness of the cold in Hokkaido and Tohoku. The vegetables survive the cold by turning water that is liable to freeze into sugar to prevent themselves from being frozen by the cold. As a result, they taste even sweeter.
